

Essay Cover Sheet Instructions

Don't forget the all-important cover page when you assemble your essay for the Optimist Club of Fort Worth's Essay Contest. Optimist International has rules about placing a cover page in front of the essay because it is judged by a team which never knows the student's identity until judging is finished. Also, there is to be no personal identification in the body of the essay. The cover page is numbered along with the essay at the time of submission and is used to identify the winning essays at the end of the contest.

Optimist International Rule:

Each entry must begin with a cover page containing: the official topic, number of words (700 minimum to no more than 800), writer's name, phone number, name of school and date of birth.
